INSIGHT

All of us have books that we really value. They remain in our hearts forever. They are closely connected with our feelings, emotions and memories. And we can share these feelings with friends only.

IDEA

Introduce you Book4Mate from e-library Bookmate. It's a great opportunity to give the books that became part of our hearts to the people that we really value.

You choose your favorite e-book, add your personal comments, your memories or even photos and give it to your friends with a free month subscription to Bookmate.
